SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS: Expunged or Sealed Records

If you have expunged or sealed records, read this section before completing the Personal History Questionnaire.

Florida State Statute (FSS) 943.058 - Criminal History Record Expungement or Sealing.

When all criminal history has been expunged or sealed, the subject of such records may lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge the event covered by the expunged or sealed records, except in the following circumstances:

- a) When the person is the subject of the record is a candidate for employment with a criminal justice agency.

This exception requires by law that you as an applicant for employment, with a criminal justice agency (such as the Florida City Police Department) may not lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge the events in any expunged or sealed records.
